INTRODUCTION

Publication of these abstracts was prompted by requests from South Dakota businesses and governmental divisions for updated information on South Dakota and its communities. Abstracts are prepared for the following: 1) the state of South Dakota; 2) all sixty-six counties within the state; 3) cities in South Dakota which had a population of 500 or more in 1980; and 4) smaller cities for which the information has been requested.

This publication contains three tables and three appendices. Table I contains an abstract for the state of South Dakota. Table II contains the sixty-six individual county abstracts. Finally, Table III includes 144 individual community abstracts.

Appendix A lists the sources used to compile the data included in the abstracts and Appendix B is a glossary of terms. The glossary defines various terms and interprets their application in the abstracts. An explanation of the symbols used is also located in the glossary. Appendix C contains three selected maps for South Dakota.

Information included in this publication was compiled and organized by Judy Lohmar, Graduate Assistant for the State Data Center. Special thanks are expressed to Carol Woolridge and Tonya Meaney for their dedication and help in completion of this project. Please direct any comments, suggestions or recommendations concerning this publication to: DeVee Dykstra, Director, State Data Center, University of South Dakota, 414 E. Clark, Vermillion, SD 57069.

Separate living quarters are those in which the occupants live and eat separately from other persons in the building and have direct access from the outside of the building or through a common hall. The occupants may be a single family, one person living alone, two or more families living together, or any other group of related or unrelated persons who share living arrangements.

Household Income - Household income includes the income of the householder and all other persons 15 years old and over in the household, whether or not related to the householder.

Income - Income is the algebraic sum of the amounts reported separately for wage or salary income; nonfarm net self-employment; farm net self-employment income; interest, dividend, net royalty or rental income; Social Security or Railroad Retirement income; public assistance or welfare income; and all other income.

One group represents those with income greater than the median and the other group represents those with income less than the median. Total number of units in the distribution includes those with no income.

This classification was developed to be consistent with the "1980 Standard Occupational Classification Manual" (SOC). The primary principles used in classifying occupations are: 1) the classification should realistically reflect the current occupational structure of the United States, and 2) an occupation should be classified on the basis of work performed.

Occupied Households - A housing unit is classified as occupied if it is the usual place of residence of the person or group of persons living in it at the time of enumeration/estimation, or if the occupants are only temporarily absent; e.g., away on vacation. This excludes noncash transactions such as receipt of services, commodities, or other "receipts in kind." Revenue is net of refunds and other correcting transactions.

Total Revenues for Education - Total revenues for education are those revenues generated through local, county, state and federal taxes. Some school districts may receive other sources or pensions, however those sources are not included here.

Standard Industrial Classification - Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) codes categorize all establishment-based federal economic statistics by industry. Industries are defined in accordance with the composition and structure of the economy. SIC codes are revised periodically to reflect the economy's changing industrial organization. Industry classification for employment by industry and taxable sales is based on the 1972 revision of the SIC codes.

Taxable Sales - Taxable sales are the portion of gross receipts of businesses, persons, or organizations who sell, lease, or rent tangible personal property or perform taxable services at retail in South Dakota upon which a sales tax is imposed. The industry classifications are based on the 1972 Standard Industrial Classification codes.
